The Stamford Circle is a new networking and community event for business owners/professionals across Stamford & surrounding areas.

Founded by Jenna Genovese, behavioural insights consultant and founder of JG Insights, The Stamford Circle was created after moving back to the area, wanting to build more meaningful local connections.

The first event brought together people from a range of industries for a morning of conversation, learning and relationship-building, with local guest speakers sharing valuable industry insight.

Attendees described the event as "unlike any networking events they'd been to", praising the quality of the discussions and connections made.

To find out more about future events, find Jenna on LinkedIn: Jenna Genovese, Eventbrite: The Stamford Circle or email jginsights@outlook.com.
